

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

We are showcasing the beauty of the desert oasis and the healing it provides. The Southwestern Medicine Women Gathering will be vibrant and well-respected as one of the regional gatherings for the study and celebration of herbal medicine, natural health, and women's wisdom. Our event is local and will be held at The Collective Sedona on Hwy 179, directly off of I-17.

With over 10 classes and intensives that foster an empowered approach to wellness using herbs and other earth-based healing methods, we address the entire life journey of women— from midwifery to conscious dying, sacred sexuality to self-empowerment.

The women who align themselves with the gatherings like this, are at the vanguard of the shift to a more responsible and conscious approach to health, wellness and personal growth. We welcome organizations and companies who share our commitment to a healthy, holistic and verdant lifestyle to partner with us to support and engage this community.

Our community is well educated, affluent, and makes conscious, informed purchasing choices based on a core-value driven criteria and word of mouth recommendations from peers. The members of our community are devoted to their lifestyle and to the conference. As with the general population, these women make 83% of all purchasing decisions in their households, 93% of the food purchases and 80% of the health care decisions.
